2 INFANTS SLAIN IN MASSILLON HOSPITAL

Hungary Says 'No'

COL. JOHN H. STOKES, JR., (above) of San Francisco, officer of the U. S. military mission in Hungary, has been refused permission to inspect military installations of the new Communist-controlled government in Budapest. The refusal raises speculation that Russia already has a hand in Hungary's military. (International)

School's Out! 2,394 Children Are Happy

School is out! With the issuance of year-end report cards Friday afternoon, the Salem's 2,394 school children officially completed the 1946-47 term.

Books belonging to the board of education were turned in by the students Tuesday and Wednesday.

Another phase of educational activity will begin Tuesday when those interested in taking a summer school course will meet at the High school.

The registration, which will be conducted by Principal Beman Ludwig, will be at 10 a. m. Tuesday in Room 310. The summer term will be for a six weeks period, beginning Monday, June 16.

CREEKS HIGH AFTER RAINS

Record 3.22 Inches Precipitation Is Registered In Salem

Columbiana county was hard hit by torrential rains Friday night and this morning, with Salem soaked with a phenomenal 3.22 inches of water. East Liverpool reported a precipitation of 2.37 inches.

The storms climaxed one of the most rainy first weeks in June in history. Only two days have been clear so far this month. The three-plus inches of rainfall exceed that of an entire month in normal years.

At noon today the creek at Eagleton's Glen on the Lisbon-Salem road was reported full to the banks, with the water about to overflow.

In Elkton, the main street stood under two feet of water and was only two feet from the door of the Seitzer general store. The water there was reported still rising. Several homes have flooded lower floors.

In Lisbon, lightning struck the home of Village Marshal Dalton E. Pike of E. High st., setting fire to curtains. The blaze was extinguished.

Water pouring from Beaver creek raised the Ohio river four tenths of an inch hourly with a 20-foot crest expected. Flood stage is 32 feet.

In Wooster, 2.85 inches of rain fell since noon yesterday, flooding all streams and blocking several highways.

G. A. R. to Encamp At Columbus: Two Attend

COLUMBUS, June 7.—Two of Ohio's three remaining members of the Grand Army of the Republic came here tomorrow for the 81st state encampment.

National and Ohio Commander John H. Grate, 101, of Atwater, and John R. Bennett, 102, of Waynesfield, adjutant and quartermaster and past Ohio commander, have announced they'll be on hand.

Oakley Bailey of Alliance whose 104th birthday is June 14 has written that his buddies will have to get along without him.

State highway patrol escorts will bring the two centenarian veterans to the Civil war to a program that extends Sunday through Wednesday. Five affiliated orders of the GAR, the Women's Relief corps, Ladies of the Grand Army, Daughters of Union Veterans, Sons of Veterans, and the auxiliary to the sons are expected to be represented by about 1,000 persons.

Gen. Eisenhower Reaffirms U.S. Faith In World Peace

(By Associated Press)

KANSAS CITY, June 7.—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower declared last night that "we intend to continue the firm champion of the world peace" who seek to lead their own lives in peace" despite any "hostility" from another nation.

Without naming Russia, the Army chief of staff noted that "at least one of the powerful nations does not see eye to eye with us on measures for the stability peace demands."

"But another's indifference—or even hostility—must not deflect us from the course we deem right," he continued.

"We do not dictate to any nation what it does internally but we intend to continue the firm champion of those who seek to lead their own lives in peace with world neighbors. They need our help."

The general added that "without American aid, guidance and leadership there is immediate danger of chaos among hundreds of millions."

MAN DIES ON CROSSING AT COLUMBIANA

Albert Ferrall, 68, Fairfield Twp. Trustee, Killed By Train

COLUMBIANA, June 7.—Albert Ferrall, 68, a Fairfield township trustee for many years, was killed instantly at about 6:30 a. m. today at the Elm street crossing of the Pennsylvania railroad when his car was struck by a Chicago-bound flyer.

Witnesses said Ferrall drove in front of the train at the crossing. The train was running on the down grade about 20 minutes late at the time.

The auto was broken in two and parts strewn along the track. Ferrall's body was carried in part of the car on the engine pilot for the distance of a half-mile.

Ferrall was employed by the Enterprise Manufacturing Co., and resided at 114 E. Friend st.

Life Resident of Township

Born in Fairfield township on Oct. 1, 1879, he was the son of Edmund and Susan Mankin Ferrall. He was married to Margaret Wallace on March 3, 1903. They had lived here for two years, coming from a farm.

He was president of the Fairfield township board of trustees and had served on the board for 22 years. A member of the Grace Evangelical and Reform church, he served as a deacon and an elder for many years.

Surviving in addition to his wife, are three sons, Kenneth of Columbiana, Marion A. of Claremont, Calif., and Willard of Leetonia; five grandchildren, two sisters, Mrs. Verbie Fry of Columbiana and Mrs. Lyman Justison of East Palestine; two brothers, Edward of Rogers and Russell of Columbiana.

The son, Willard, is a teacher in the Junior High school at Salem.

Funeral Monday

Funeral service will be held at 2 p. m. Monday at the Fry funeral home, in charge of Rev. Waldo Bertels. Burial will be in Columbiana cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Sunday evening.

Mansfield People Boil Water After Heavy Rains

MANSFIELD, June 7.—An all-night downpour left Mansfield's city water contaminated, unfit for drinking without boiling or use of chlorine, city Health Commissioner Fred O. Toney declared today.

The commissioner in his public statement urging all citizens to purify their city water before drinking it, also sought to get everyone to undergo typhoid vaccination.

Special facilities for mass vaccination were set up and chemists began immediate analyses of water from all eight of the city's waterworks wells.

District Chiropodists To Meet Here On Sunday

Dr. Sofranich of Akron will be guest speaker at the afternoon session of a business and scientific meeting of the Eastern zone, Ohio chiropodist association, which opens at 10 a. m. Sunday in the Lape hotel.

Dr. S. M. Moore of Salem arranged the meeting and Dr. S. J. Pusateri of Youngstown, zone president, will be in charge.

Twenty members from Salem, Niles, Warren, Youngstown, Canton, Akron, East Liverpool and Steubenville are expected to attend.

Salem High School Alumni Program Proves To Be Real Reunion; Speaker Lauds City

Approximately 200 persons, the majority graduates of Salem High school, Friday night renewed old acquaintances and in many cases made new ones as the Salem High school Alumni association observed its 65th annual reunion at the Masonic temple at a dinner-dance affair.

Walter F. Taylor, graduate of 1917 and now director of the department of education and research of the American Institute of Architects in Washington, D. C., was the speaker of the evening.

Paying tribute to the educational benefits of Salem High school, Taylor related his numerous and extensive experiences in his field of work as an educator, engineer and architect throughout the world and then explained why he is proud of America, Ohio and Salem.

He said the most important and impressive thing to him about America, after years of travel throughout foreign nations, is "this country's system of holding free elections and then standing by the will of the majority."

He said "America's ability to assimilate foreign immigrants" was another wonderful thing about the country. Other nations, he stated, are not so friendly to foreigners in their midst.

Tracing Salem's fame throughout this nation and even the world for a variety of industrial accomplishments and products, he also explained that he has found Salem traditions and history well known everywhere.

In pointing out what he felt Salem should hope for in the future, the nationally-known architect urged that the Quaker City "expand and cultivate its rich traditions and develop the natural regional qualities so unusual to the city."

He said so many cities were "rubber-stamp" affairs, similar the world over.

He said he hoped "America could assume its world responsibilities as the frontier of the growing western civilization and act its age" in the vital years ahead.

Taylor was introduced by his classmate, Joe Kelley.

Judge Joel Sharp, introduced by T. Emerson Emith, president of the association and toastmaster of the evening, presented the scholarship awards to Joe Ferreri, Enes Equize and L. Edwin Mosher. The graduates received checks for $700, $300 and $200, respectively.

Alternates named were Ray Snyder and Jean Headrick.

Richard Gottschling, Class of 1947

president, presented the association with a $100 check and the scholarship fund a $765 check from his class.

As a special feature of the evening, Judge Sharp introduced members of old time Salem High school classes, who were in attendance.

Following a letter written to the association from Berry A. Baxter of California, a member of the class of 1877, Sharp introduced Charles Curtis of Cleveland, who, with Baxter, was a member of that class of four graduates. Mr. Curtis spoke briefly.

Miss Nora Hise, a member of the Class of 1888, was introduced and paid tribute to Benny Alcorn, school janitor many years ago.

She told of interesting school experiences in which Alcorn played a

BODIES FOUND ON FLOOR BY NIGHT NURSE

Motive Obscure As Police Begin Search For Unknown Assailant

(By Associated Press)

MASSILLON, June 7.—Two infant girls were battered to death in the pediatrics nursery of City hospital last night by an unidentified assailant whose motive was unknown, police announced today.

Although the nursery sometimes contains as many as 30 children the two victims were its sole occupants last night. They were:

Rosemary Morton, nine weeks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Morton (1607 13th St.).

Diane J. Brand, eight weeks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Brand (527 4th St.).

Nurse Finds Bodies

A nurse, Marian Sillick, found the babies' bodies by their cribs last night. The bed clothing on a third crib was pulled back.

The Stark county coroner, Dr. Edward Reno, said the infants died of injuries caused by blunt force.

Police Chief Stanley Switter, who headed an investigating detail, said the attacker may have picked them up and struck them against the floor. Dirt smudges were found on the head of the Brand baby.

The police believed the attack was made between 7:35 and 7:45 last night. Visiting to the nursery was restricted on Friday nights, and patrolmen made immediate efforts to contact any of the few visitors.

Stark County Prosecutor Deane McLaughlin, who participated in the investigation, said that in his view, hospital authorities had not been lax in their responsibilities. "In no way did I find any neglect of proper duty or care," he added.

The Brand baby was admitted to the hospital last Monday for an operation and the Morton baby had been there since May 19 for observation.

Families Grief-Stricken

A 26-year-old steelworker, the father of the Brand baby related in a voice broken at intervals by emotion how he was called to the hospital last night under the delusion he was to offer his own blood for a transfusion.

When he entered the hospital, attendants broke the news of the death of little Diane, the only child of the young Brands.

"Edna is pretty well broken up," Leo Brand said of his wife, who gave birth of the child March 28 and returned happily to her modest home April 2.

Little Diane underwent surgery to correct an abdominal condition last Monday.

"The passage into her stomach was too small," explained her grief-stricken father. "I had been alerted to be ready to give her a transfusion."

"That's what I thought the call was about last night."

The 26-year-old mother, too, thought she was going to her baby's side while physicians administered whole blood as a strength-giving measure.

She followed a sleepless, nerve-wracking night of speculation.

"I simply can't figure out who would do such a thing," the father said.

"No, there are no clues so far as I know."

The father sat near the telephone awaiting news of the hunt launched for the killer, still without sleep since the news came to him within half an hour after the body of his baby daughter was found sprawled in the hospital nursery.

LABOR BILL GOES TO TRUMAN DESK

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 7.—Congress wrapped up the Taft-Hartley labor bill for President Truman today and tagged it: Approved by overwhelming majorities of both the senate and house.

And Republican leaders predicted confidently that if the chief executive votes the big measure curbing union activities, congress will override his decision.

That takes a two to one majority. Here is the picture:

The senate approved the bill late yesterday by a vote of 54 to 17, completing congressional action. That's a three to one margin—better than the GOP leadership expects to muster on a veto test, if one comes.

The house slapped its okay on the bill earlier this week, 320 to 79, or four to one. So proponents there are not worried.

Sen. Taft (Ohio), chairman of the senate's Republican policy and labor committees, told a reporter he was "pleased" by the senate vote and still is confident a veto can be overcome, if necessary.

Probe Girl's Death

COLUMBUS, June 7.—Dr. John B. Gravis and Columbus police probed today the death of a comely 20-year-old Fairfield county girl whose body was found in a room at the Southern hotel here last night.

Capt. Joseph Tibe of the police homicide detail reported the girl had been identified as Miss Mabel Hoffman, secretary to the superintendent of schools at Pleasantville, O.

Communists Plot Austria Overthrow

(By Associated Press)

A Communist maneuver aimed at wresting undisputed control over Austria's government was reported today in Vienna, and in Budapest the British made a second sharp demand to the Russians for information relating to communist seizure of Hungary.

Adding to the sequence of events which many western diplomats regard as Stalin's answer to the Truman doctrine, Communist Premier Petru Groza of Romania met with Yugoslavia's Premier Marshal Tito. His arrival in Belgrade coincided with rumors of a Balkan federation firmly under the control of the Soviet union.

In Budapest British Maj. Gen. P. Edgumbe demanded of the Soviet commander, Lt. Gen. V. P. Sivriyev, copies of documents said by the Communists to have linked former Premier Ferenc Nagy to an alleged plot to overthrow the Hungarian republic.

MOTHER KILLS TWO SONS, THEN SELF

FINDLAY, June 7.—Mrs. Ivan James, 25, of nearby Vanlue, O., drowned her two sons, Billy, 4, and Bobby, eight months, in a cistern at the rear of her parent's home late last night, then took her own life by lowering herself into the water beside them.

Coroner B. F. Vorhees said that the woman's husband, James, employed at the Cooper Rubber Co. here, reported that his wife left a note telling him she planned to kill the children and herself to relieve him of "financial" difficulties.

The coroner ruled death by drowning and "suicide by reason of temporary insanity."

Press Into Jungle To Save Last Two Downed U.S. Airmen

(By Associated Press)

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., June 7.—The green hell of a Nicaraguan jungle was being forced today to give up the last of 15 airmen it snatched from a burning bomber more than two weeks ago.

It required only minutes for the men to plunge into the dense fastness on May 21, as they flew from the Canal zone toward Kelly field, Texas. Intensive rescue efforts got under way quickly, but 17 days later two men are still the prisoners of the tangle of trees, vines and creepers.

The army at Morrison field here said one of the men yet to be rescued is Master Sgt. Richard A. MacCreedy of Franklin, Ky., who definitely is alive.

The name of the other was withheld because "we don't know if he is dead or alive," the 62nd air rescue squadron reported. Ground troops are battling towards them.

Of the 13 men previously rescued, one died as he was placed aboard a helicopter after 14 days in the jungle. He was listed as Sgt. David J. Wylie of Chicago.

"This has been one of the army's most difficult rescue efforts since the war," said Morrison field officers.

Conquering the jungle required thousands of miles of flying, aerial photography of a large area in search of clues, the parachuting of a doctor, supplies, instructions and work crews into the jungle, hacking out a clearing for helicopter to land, and tedious chopping of paths through heavy growth toward survivors. Ground troops were highly praised for their part in the rescue.

A political revolution in Nicaragua at the height of the rescue complicated matters for a time. Communications became sketchy, but no hindrance was offered by authorities to the humanitarian effort.

The army would not predict how long it would take to reach the last two prisoners of the jungle.

Did Taft Make Prices High?

The White House is beating another tattoo on Senator Taft's high forehead, this time because it says he's in favor of high prices. Politics being what it is, Taft has to grin and bear this because Mr. Truman has to pretend to shift the blame to someone, to keep from getting it himself.

But Senator Taft or President Truman didn't cause high prices. A condition caused them. Politicians, businessmen, professional people, wage earners—everybody who asked a little more than he'd been getting before had a hand in it. About the only people not sharing the blame are pensioners and investors; they're taking it in the neck.

Mr. Truman, a politician first, last and always, has decided to play politics with prices. His strategy is to make it appear that some particular minority—greedy businessmen—should get all the blame. It's a throw-back to the old "New Deal" malarkey that consisted of blaming businessmen for everything.

It wouldn't be good politics for Mr. Truman to be realistic and indict human nature, instead of businessmen; too many toes would be trampled on. But that's where the indictment belongs. Most people with something to sell will charge all they can get for it, and nothing much can be done about it. Everybody wants lower prices, but they're always the prices the other fellow is charging.

No one wants a boom and a bust, contrary to Mr. Truman's ingenious little stunt to make it look as if Taft prayed for that very thing every night. But on the other hand, no one wants to quit making hay while the sun is shining—and to show who's included it's only necessary to recall that President Truman himself has been squawking about proposals to cut down the high price of government. He wants everything else cut down, but not government. You other fellows are greedy, the White House argues, but the government needs all it can get.

Two Indias

The surprising feature of Prime Minister Attlee's proposal for the partitioning of India was the unanimity with which it was received. In New Delhi, Moslem leaders were jubilant. Hindu leaders, who might have been expected to oppose it, were optimistic. Pandit Nehru saying, "It may be that this way we shall reach that united India sooner than otherwise."

In London, Winston Churchill and the Conservatives promised to support the plan, envisioning a time when the new states would decide to stay, as Churchill put it, "within the mysterious circle of the British Commonwealth." Only Gandhi remains unconvinced.

It's a complicated, even hopelessly, plan the British have worked out but it appears the only one with a chance of succeeding. There will be two sovereign states on the vast Indian subcontinent, Hindustan with 198,000,000 inhabitants and Pakistan with 57,000,000. One section of Pakistan will be isolated from the rest, and to this is added the problem of the Princely States which under British rule have enjoyed wide privileges.

The problems of separating finance, army, communications and all the other systems which knit peoples together, are tremendous. There will have to be countless boundary arbitrations and within Pakistan the formation of subdivisions to look after Hindu minorities. The complexity and vastness of the task staggers the imagination.

Both sides agree Lord Mountbatten has been a sincere, fair mediator in working out this broad plan in only 19 weeks. In the words of a spokesman for the Sikhs, another Indian minority, "It is not true to say we are happy together but this plan is something worth while. Let us take it that way."

As of June, 1947

Secretary of State Marshall's address to the Harvard Alumni Association contained a valuable outline of United States foreign policy.

"For the past 10 years," he said, speaking of Europe, "conditions have been highly abnormal. The feverish preparation for war and the more feverish maintenance of the war efforts engulfed all aspects of national economies. . . . The breakdown of the business structure was complete. Recovery has been seriously retarded by the fact that two years after the close of hostilities a peace settlement with Germany and Austria has not been agreed upon. . . . Our policy is directed not against any country or doctrine but against hunger, poverty, desperation and chaos. Its purpose should be the revival of a working economy in the world so as to permit emergence of political and social condition in which free institutions can exist. . . . The initiative should come from Europe. . . . The role of this country should consist of friendly aid in the drafting of a European program and of later support of such a program so far as it may be practical for us to do. The program should be a joint one, agreed to by a number, if not all European nations."

Chaos is the enemy of free institutions. The United States will try to overcome chaos and the friends of chaos, to preserve free institutions. In so doing it must preserve itself from chaos at home, as well as abroad.

For Sunday, June 8

SUNDAY'S horoscope shows little amity, progress or harmony in any relations or contacts excepting those concerned with religious, spiritual, artistic, cultural or idealistic aspirations and activities.

These should claim the major interest since all other matters are subject to crystallized or static conditions, with possible postponements and disappointments. Shun quarrels, arguments, destructive or hazardous acts or speech. Danger lurks in haste and turmoil.

Birthday Forecast

Those whose birthday it is may find themselves plunged into a period of failure, disappointment, danger and regrets unless they are firm in maintaining a reasonable amiable, calm and temperate frame of mind and emotions, with moderate and constructive attention to rather critical circumstances.

These might be effectively composed by tactful, prudent and restrained words and deeds, finding those whose good will is imperative and ready to recognize sound and sane projects. Ideals, imagination, intuition and keen emotions have weight.

A child born on this day while having high ideals and much intuitive insight, yet may be carried away by its turbulent, rash and ungoverned impulses, interfering with its progress and happiness.

For Monday, June 9

MONDAY'S astrological forecast holds augury of the abrupt development of certain plans or projects in which the final outcome depends largely upon the sane, prudent, restrained and tactful use of social, cultural, emotional or sentimental qualities as applied to strange or curious circumstances.

Those in high places are approachable for unusual propositions, but careless, indiscreet or extravagant attitudes may forfeit their interest or good will.

On the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is are in line for advancement of cherished plans and objectives through the sudden and unforeseen turn of events, in which a probable aboutface or radical change of plans, revised or novel, may promote their desires and win support from those in influential places, won by fresh ideas.

It is probable emotional or romantic aspects may have influence in launching these ventures, but an erratic, extravagant or bombastic presentation of unusual prospects may prove perilous. Social or professional prestige is involved, to be used prudently.

A child born on this day may be justified in its high ambitions and bid for the limelight, but its tendency to overdo, waste or exaggerate may be detrimental. It may be original, inventive and unconventional.

Penicillin Spray Aids Sinus Infection

BY HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

PENICILLIN is a great germ fighter but to be effective it must be brought into direct contact with the germs causing an infection and kept there long enough to kill them.

In some diseases this can be accomplished by injecting penicillin into a muscle so that it can be taken up by the blood stream; in others the best method is to give it by mouth.

But where that very common trouble-maker, sinus infection, is concerned penicillin does not work well when given in either of these ways.

The nasal sinuses are air chambers connected by tiny passageways with the nose. When they become infected, they are usually filled with germ-containing mucus or pus. Thus, penicillin in the blood cannot reach most of the germs which are keeping the infection alive.

It may be very useful in this disorder, however, when breathed into the nose in the form of a spray. According to Dr. Alvan L. Barach and his co-workers, of New York, a special apparatus is required to get the penicillin into the sinuses. What is necessary, is to drive the air out of the sinuses before the penicillin spray is breathed in. The apparatus which he suggests is connected with a tank of oxygen as well as with an apparatus for producing suction.

In carrying out the treatment, the patient breathes in the penicillin spray. After two or three breaths, during which time the nasal passages become filled with the penicillin spray, the suction is applied and the patient is asked to swallow. As a result of this treatment, the penicillin spray enters the various sinuses.

Patients with chronic sinus infection, it is suggested, may be given a treatment four times a day. In cases of acute infection of the sinuses, the treatment is carried out once daily. Of course, this treatment can be carried out only under the direction of a physician who is supplied with the proper apparatus.

Chronic sinus infection produces such symptoms as continued nasal discharge, headache, and pains in the face. A definite diagnosis can usually be made by means of an X-ray examination, a study of the nose by the physician, and what is called transillumination, which consists of showing a light through the sinuses with the patient in a darkened room.

Any sinuses which appear cloudy or through which the light does not pass, are probably infected. Once a definite diagnosis has been made, the physician will decide just what treatment would be best.

Letters to Dr. Bundesen should be addressed in care of 235 E. 45th st., New York City.

Planning Ahead

In many cases careful planning of a home means the difference between a completely satisfactory home and one which simply provides shelter.

Perhaps you are not yet ready to start to build, but it is not too early to plan ahead for that new home. In the meantime build up a savings account that will help you to pay for it.

Taft Blames Truman For Price Crisis

WASHINGTON, June 7—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) declared Friday President Truman has "created all the basic conditions which compel high prices."

This was Taft's reply to Mr. Truman's assertion yesterday that the Republican senate policy chief is following a "boom and bust" economic theory.

In a formal statement, Taft listed a five point program which he said illustrated "the President's inconsistent talk about lowering prices, when every policy of his administration has increased prices and is still doing so."

Mr. Truman told a news conference yesterday that Taft had expressed "fallacious and dangerous" economic views.

Flowers will be distributed among shut-ins by the Columbiana branch of the W.C.T.U. in connection with its meeting next Friday afternoon at the home of its president, Mrs. Abbie Hollenshead, Union st.

CONDEMN STATION FOR NEW BRIDGE

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, June 7—Common Pleas Judge Myron B. Gessaman today upheld the right of the state highway department to appropriate the Pennsylvania railroad depot in Youngstown to make way for a new highway bridge.

Judge Gessaman sustained the highway department's demurrer to the Pennsylvania's petition for an injunction and held that the state may appropriate property with its power of eminent domain even though the property is already dedicated to public use.

The Pennsylvania had argued that since its depot, which stands partly in the way of the Spring Common bridge, was a public building, it was not subject to condemnation proceedings because the railroad itself had a delegated power of eminent domain.

However, Judge Gessaman found "the power of the state of Ohio is superior to that of the railroad company."

SOCIAL NOTES

Miss Serbanuta, Gordon Shasteen Exchange Vows

Miss Sara Serbanuta selected a lovely white marquisette gown trimmed in florentine lace, for her marriage to Gordon Shasteen which was solemnized in a beautifully appointed wedding at 9 a. m. today in the Methodist church.

Designed with a round neckline, long sleeves pointed at the wrist, and a fitted bodice, her gown had a full skirt with a long train. Her finger-tip veil fell from a beaded tiara and she carried an arm bouquet of white roses and stephanotis. She wore a string of pearls.

As matron of honor, Mrs. Jack Cordes of Massillon, sister of the bride, was costumed in pink net and jersey over satin. She carried a bouquet of lavender larkspur and yellow daisies.

Given in marriage by her brother, Alex Serbanuta, he escorted her to the altar banked with ferns and palms and lighted with white candles in tall seven-branch candelabra. Dr. James A. Scott, pastor, heard the exchange of vows in the single ring ceremony.

Homer Taylor, organist, played the musical prelude.

James Shasteen was his brother's best man and John Farcas and Martin Catlos ushered.

A breakfast was served at the Dinner Bell restaurant for approximately 25 relatives from Salem, Massillon, Selfridge field and Detroit, Mich.

Later there was a reception for the families at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Valeria Sullivan of S. Union ave.

The couple left on a honeymoon trip Saturday afternoon to Niagara Falls and points in Canada.

Until recently, Mrs. Shasteen was employed in the Salem Concrete & Supply Co. office.

A son of Mrs. Elizabeth Shasteen of E. State st., the groom is an engineering student in Youngstown college.

They will reside at 518 S. Union ave.

Rebekahs Will Hold Initiation June 20

Plans were made for initiation June 20 when Home Lodge Daughters of Rebekah, met Friday evening.

A combined memorial service of Odd Fellows and Rebekahs also will be observed at this session.

Lunch was served at an attractive table decorated with iris and lupine in novelty holders. Mrs. James Goodwin, chairman, was assisted by Mrs. W. W. Brown, Mrs. J. A. Whitaker, Mrs. Nora Barber, Mrs. Ida Bushman and Mrs. John Cobedish in serving the lunch.

Helen Louise Theiss Feted At Party

Miss Helen Louise Theiss was feted at a delightful party given by her aunt, Mrs. John Theiss, Friday evening at her home, Homewood ave.

Miss Theiss, whose marriage to Ronald Ibbotson will be an event of Saturday, June 28, was presented a miscellaneous shower.

Game prizes were shared by Mrs. Harry Ibbotson, Mrs. George Theiss and Mrs. Regina Theiss.

Pink and white tones were combined for the beautifully appointed buffet table, which was set with a lace cloth and centered with a bouquet of flowers. Favors were miniature white lace umbrellas tied with pink bows.

Mrs. Ibbotson of Washingtonville and Mrs. Elsie Woods of Leontonia were out of town guests.

Octo Club Entertained Friday Evening

Mrs. Gilbert Everhart and Mrs. Charles Metz shared game prizes at a meeting of the Octo club Friday evening at the home of Mrs. William Smith, W. Euclid st.

Using a pastel color scheme, the lunch table, laid with a lace cloth, was centered with a Maypole from which there were streamers leading to dolls at each place.

Plans were made for a dinner party, June 12, at Canton.

Solving Our Problems

Somebody Is Following You
By James Alexander Scott

Somebody sees your footprints in the sand and is unconsciously going your way.

Somebody is catching a glimpse of you, as you thread your way through life's mysterious woods, and is coming after you, perhaps merely because he knows no better direction to take.

Thackeray said that no Irishman was so poor that he did not have a still poorer Irishman living at his expense.

And nobody is so intelligent and commonplace that he does not determine by his example the life of someone else.

We are really fond of underrating ourselves, to escape responsibility. But the fatal power of leading others is inescapable. They follow us whether we will or no, and often the more persistently in such measure as we have no wish to be followed.

For the examples most doggedly followed are of those who do not set themselves up as examples.

When a man cries "Do not as I do," then his manners take strong hold on us.

Is not the great model of conduct and piety that grasp us; it is the little every-day models of negligence.

The boy swears and goes dirty to be like Huck Finn. The little girl melts into the mold of the silly and slithering miss. The youth drinks because others drink.

People do things because others do, more than for any other reason.

This is the strange force of crowds, where we are swept along by the cumulative power of example to do what in our sober judgment we would never have done.

A little of this drawing or pulling power rests in every one of us. No matter how small and inconsiderable a person you seem to yourself to be, someone is being led by you by the invisible tow lines that reach out from you to him.

No soul walks alone.

No act of self-restraint or of petulance is without an echo in some one else.

Down the ways of life you walk at the head of some sort of a procession. Dimly and instinctively they follow you.

Unconsciously, even more than consciously, you are making this world a better or worse place. You are adding to its pile of happiness or its heap of misery—you are shedding light or spreading gloom.

You cannot help it so long as you live when the final books are balanced it is your "little nameless unremembered acts" that weigh most.

Indians Climb Back Into Third Position

MEL HARDER TURNS IN SECOND MOUND WIN OF 20TH YEAR

Hegan, Mitchell Pound Homers As Cleveland Triumphs 7-4

(By Associated Press)
CLEVELAND, June 7—Cleveland Indians were back on the beam today after coming up with an unbeatable combination of fine pitching and timely hitting.

Mel Harder, 37-year-old right hander now in his 20th season with the Indians, received credit for last night's 7 to 4 triumph over the pesky Philadelphia Athletics.

The win was Harder's second in as many starts this season and the 29th of his major league career. Mel set the A's down with only five hits and two runs until he hit the eighth and was given relief by Ed Kilenman.

Two Indians delivered the first home runs of their major league careers. Catcher Jim Hegan belted one over the stadium fence in the second inning while Dale Mitchell, batting champion of the Texas league last year, connected for a tremendous drive that hit the facing of the upper right field stands in the third.

Cleveland clubbed starter Bob Savage for five runs and seven hits in the two and 1/2 innings he lasted. Manager Lou Boudreau returned to the lineup after injuring his back Thursday but collected only one hit in four trips to the plate and dropped to second place in the American league batting race.

Bob Lemon and Al Gettel drew the Tribe mound assignments for today's double header, with Phil Marchildon and Bill McCahan working for the A's.

Saxons To Entertain Cleveland Here Sunday

Entertaining Cleveland East's Junior Saxon softball team at Centennial park at 2:30 p. m. Sunday, the Salem Saxons will be seeking their second win in three games.

Salem was rained out in Cleveland last week, when scheduled to meet Cleveland West, but completed two games earlier in the season with Youngstown and Canton's Saxon clubs.

The game is a Saxon league affair. Man has been manufacturing glass for about 4,000 years.

Ohio Basketball Coaches Not So Interested In New Association They Formed

By FRITZ HOWELL
OHIO AP Sports Editor
COLUMBUS, June 7—It's beginning to look as if Ohio's high school basketball coaches are about as interested in their newly-formed Coaches association as most folks are in the fine print on a contract.

For years the cage mentors squawked for a separate organization of their own, such as the football and track coaches have. They finally got it in late March, at the time of the state tournament.

But, with 1161 schools boasting basketball teams, all with a head coach and many with assistants, only 163 have joined the new association. That figures out to one head coach of each seven, hardly enough to give any suggestions to be made to the State High School association on how the tournaments should be run.

While the basketball coaches are giving their group the "absent" treatment, the state's football and basketball officials are moving to straighten out a lot of matters.

After his schedule reaches 10 games per year, half of them in Class A or equivalent, the "associate" becomes an "active" member—but he still has to attend the four study sessions each year, and pass a written examination annually.

Baldwin-Wallace Set To Cop All-Ohio Meet

DELAWARE, June 7—Baldwin-Wallace's well-rounded track team, sparked by its ebony speedster, World Champion Harrison Dillard, lined up today as favorite to sweep the All-Ohio meet at Ohio Wesleyan's Selby field here.

Besides Dillard, the nation's foremost hurdler, the Yellowjackets from Berea planned to use Gunther Katzmar in the sprints. Katzmar finished ahead of Dillard in the 220-yard dash during last week's Ohio conference meet.

Undefeated Quentin Brelsford of Ohio Wesleyan and Vince Marotta, Mt. Union sprinter, also were certain to attract attention here. Brelsford has not been beaten in either the mile or half-mile events this season, while Marotta recently turned in 9.7 and 21.6 times for the 100-yard and 220-yard sprints.

Other schools competing for the unofficial championship of Buckeye colleges were Ohio university, Cincinnati, Western Reserve, Miami, Case, Bowling Green, Akron, Oberlin, Wooster, Hiram, Toledo, Denison, Muskingum and Capital.

For years, all that was required to officiate high school games in Ohio was a certificate from the State association—and it could be renewed year after year upon the payment of $2 regardless of whether the official handled any games or attended rules discussion meetings.

But now the officials are attempting to clean out the deadwood and any inefficient play-callers from their ranks.

Under the new set-up, requested by State association officials and adopted recently by several district organizations, there will be three membership classifications.

The lowest, known as "affiliate," goes to all applicants who pass a rigid, up-to-date written examination.

After the official attains, and maintains, a schedule of five games a year, and attends at least four rules-study sessions of the local association each season in each sport, he moves up to an "associate" member.

After his schedule reaches 10 games per year, half of them in Class A or equivalent, the "associate" becomes an "active" member—but he still has to attend the four study sessions each year, and pass a written examination annually.

H. M. Emswiler, state high school commissioner, said the state had about 3,000 officials and that they were "not too well distributed," the majority being in the northeastern section.

Emswiler said the rules study groups would be valuable because "some of the officials know the rules, but don't know just how to apply some of 'em."

The commissioner said the state has at least 25 local groups of officials, and that in some cases they had partially set up a "closed shop" and refused to work with officials from outside their own association.

Other associations, Emswiler said, have set the fees for which their members might work. "And that is a little out of line," the commissioner said, "for what might be a fair price for one school might be absolutely unfair for another in the same city."

The average fee in Ohio for officials, Emswiler estimated, is $15 for football and $12.50 for basketball—with all officials in any game receiving the same amount.

Junior Legion Cops 2nd Game of Week

The Salem Junior Legion baseball team won its second league game of the week by soundly trouncing the Lisbon Junior Legion by a 9-0 count, with Jack Rockhill twirling one hit ball in Lisbon.

The Salem twirler fanned 13 batters and also contributed a triple at the plate. Carl Hrovatic notched two triples and Eddie Bozich one.

Salem had little trouble with the county-seaters, as they poured on all nine runs in the first three frames to coast in.

Diner Nine Paces Leagues In Team Batting Averages

Although batting averages can be expected to tail off as the season wears on, several of the team marks compiled to date in the city softball leagues are truly outstanding.

Pacing the entire pack of 19 teams are the Diner and Deming squads in the American and National leagues respectively. The Diner nine has swatted the apple at a neat 353 pace, while Demings are not far behind with 346.

In second place in the American league is the Jaycees team, which, although batting 288 as a team, has failed in four attempts to win a game. The Recreation holds the runner-up spot in the National with a 320 mark.

The team batting standings may be juggled a bit when a full round is completed. Several of the top squads now have not yet met their toughest opposition. Those who have played the better teams have had their "hit tap" shut off accordingly.

Individual batting averages will be published by The News at a later date. At the present time averages of individuals would mean little. Some of the players have played only one or two games.

• OBITUARY •

JAMES D. BRANDAL
LISBON, June 7.—James Dalton Brandal, 65, step-father of Robert Leggett, owner of the Eells funeral home, died this morning at his home in Minerva, following a stroke.

He was a retired telegrapher of the Wheeling-Lake Erie railroad. He was a member of the Presbyterian church, the I. O. O. F. in Minerva, and was a 32nd degree Mason.

Surviving are his wife, Ida; two step-children, Mrs. Amanda Vaughn of Akron and Robert Leggett of Lisbon, and three grandchildren.

Private funeral service will be held at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday at the family home in Minerva, in charge of Rev. Franklin Trubee. Burial will be in the East Lawn cemetery, Minerva.

Friends may call at the family home Monday.

MISS LOTTIE SKILES
LISBON, June 7.—Miss Lottie Skiles, 64, died this morning in the County Home, following an illness of several months.

She was admitted to the home from East Liverpool seven months ago.

The body is at the Henry funeral home.

Communist 'Lever'

Lancika Nagy, 4-year-old son of Ferenc Nagy, ex-Hungarian Prime Minister whose government was overthrown in a Communist coup, was the "lever" which forced Nagy to resign, according to another son, Ferenc Jr., who said in Washington that the Reds demanded "Your resignation—or your son's life." Nagy, vacationing in Switzerland, quit and little Lancika was delivered to him at a Swiss border town.

Lisbon School Clinic

LISBON, June 7.—The annual pre-school clinic will be held Friday under the sponsorship of the PTA, when children who will enter school for the first time next fall will be given thorough physical check-ups. The clinic will be conducted in the Presbyterian church from 9 to 11 a. m.

Halifax, Nova Scotia, has an ice-free harbor.

LEETONIA COUPLE HAS ANNIVERSARY

LEETONIA, June 7.—Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Harrold celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary Thursday with a family dinner at Overlook Inn, Boardman-Canfield road.

The table was decorated with red roses and a three-tiered wedding cake. Following the dinner, Mr. and Mrs. Harrold and their guests, returned to the Harrold home for the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Harrold were married in their present home June 5, 1907, by his father, Rev. A. W. Harrold, then pastor of the United Brethren church, Columbiana. Mrs. Harrold, the former Charlotte Mellinger, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Mellinger.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Norman Pregoner, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Harrold, Mr. and Mrs. Evan Basinger, all of Columbiana, Mr. and Mrs. William Morris of Youngstown, Mr. and Mrs. William Wilkerson of Peterburg, Mr. and Mrs. William Harrold and Mr. Harrold's cousin, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Smith of Leetonia.

Agriculture Department To End Ration Banking

WASHINGTON, June 7.—Retailers, industrial and institutional users of sugar can make no further bank deposits of ration coupons after June 9, the Department of agriculture has announced.

This will be the first step in its plan to end ration banking. The department said the banking system is being discontinued to save money and to prevent users, anticipating the end of rationing, from overdrawing on their bank accounts of ration coupons, with the expectation they would not have to make up the overdraft.

Two Die In Traffic

NEW PHILADELPHIA, June 7.—The traffic deaths of Andrew Jackson, 72, and Mrs. Lillie Kamban, 40, of nearby Port Washington put Tuscarawas county's accident fatalities for 1947 at nine today.

Lisbon Seniors Hear Talk By Mt. Union College Head

LISBON, June 7.—Dr. Charles B. Ketchum, president of Mount Union college, addressed the class of 85 Seniors at commencement exercises in David Anderson High school last evening, speaking on the subject "Your Own Boss."

Presentation of diplomas was made by O. C. Caldwell, president of the board of education, and recognition was given the honor students including Thomas E. McKenna, valedictorian, Virginia Hepburn, salutatorian, and Helen Louise Novak, Joyce Annette Conkle and William Wilkinson, honorable mention.

The program of the evening also included selections by the high school band, and the invocation and benediction by Rev. C. L. Cope, pastor of the Methodist church.

Weeds Along Highways Doomed In Experiment

COLUMBUS, June 6.—Ohio's highway department has declared modern war on weeds.

Bids will be opened June 16, said C. R. Leavens, department purchasing agent, on about 2,000 gallons of 2-4-D, a war developed weed-killer effective against dandelions and plantain.

The state, Leavens said, would use the new weed killer under the direction of Dallas Dupre, Jr., department landscape architect, who intends to make several hundred thousand gallons of spray from the 2,000 gallons of 2-4-D.

If it does the job, the department will forego the present system of mowing roadside weeds with tractors in 1948.

Ohio General Assembly Will Reconvene Monday

COLUMBUS, June 7.—The 97th Ohio general assembly began a weekend recess today in preparation for its final week's work of the current session which started Jan. 6.

When legislators return Monday night, they will remain through Saturday to pass as many pending laws as possible before quitting.

A skeleton session will be conducted June 18 to sign bills but since adjournment will not be taken until June 30 to give Gov. Thomas J. Herbert time to sign approved measures.

During an extra day's session yesterday, the senate passed a bill proposing creation of a new state department of natural resources to unify state conservation activities.

Sportsmen Meet Monday

LISBON, June 7.—The County Fish and Game association will meet at 8 p. m. Monday in the V. F. W. home on E. Lincoln way.
